Update from General Manager, Scott King regarding Novel Coronavirus (COVID-19)

Dear all

I would like to thank the membership for the overwhelmingly positive response to our decision last week to further restrict access to the club. For those who have not been to the club in recent times, I can say with confidence that the security of the club is at a high level and thankfully no unwanted attention will be drawn as activity is at a very low level. Those two things will stand us in good stead to manage through this arc of the pandemic.

Some concise sources of information:

- Nova Scotia Government
- Federal Government
- W.H.O. Advice for the Public

To re-confirm our announcement last week – “In the interests of security, our main entry gate will be closed at 9am on Thursday 9th April and will not be operational until further notice.

Please note, cards that have been previously issued will not open the gate. Unfortunately, due to technical issues the gate is not operational. Work is continuing however at this time members are asked to access the property via the South Gate should they need to, between the hours of 9am to 5pm ONLY, seven days”.

Our FAQ has been updated, I encourage you to review it, specifically the revision to boatyard activity. If you don't see what you are looking for, please email rnsys@rnsys.com to ask us a question.

Episode Four of Squadron Pirate Radio is live and this time we welcome current VC of Member Services India White. Our content blog “Flotsam & Jetsam” has been updated. please send anything family-friendly to rnsys@rnsys.com. Participation in The Virtual Sailing Championship continues to grow, even when we think we have set a record another gets broken.

As always, please feel free to reach out should you have any questions or concerns to gm@rnsys.com

Sincerely

Scott King
General Manager
